REMARKS OF OVERSEERS.

The overseers in submitting their report to the town, would say that we have made extensive repairs in and about the almshouse, having built an addition to the house 12 by 18 for sink room and pantry, we have also laid a drain pipe to carry the sink water away from the house, and have repaired the house generally inside. Put up a new chimney to prevent any further accident by fire from that source, as we came near being burned out by a defect in it in January, 1882. We have added new furniture and cooking utensils, as what we then had were worn out and useless. We have added to the stock, and farming tools, having bought a yoke of cattle, a horse and other stock, also a new market wagon, plough, cultivator and other farming tools. We have put in a new chain pump, and made other necessary repairs. We have on hand about 130 bushels of potatoes and 325 pounds of pork and hams, and we can say that the poor are well provided for and also properly cared for by the present Warden and Matron. We have endeavored as far as possible to manage the affairs of this department with strict economy.

The Engineers, in submitting their annual report, would state that the fire engines belonging to the town are in fair order considering their age and being old fashioned and out of date. We are unable to perform the services that machines of later date can do; therefore we would recommend that the town dispose of them and procure machines of more modern make, either to be worked by hand or steam, as the present machines are a continual expense, for repairs, to the town, and as they grow older will increase in cost every year. The full complement of men to each company has been maintained during the year. There have been six alarms of fire during the year to which the department responded promptly. It is believed that the department is supplied with everything necessary for the equipment of the engines. We would recommend an appropriation of $1600 for expenses of fire department for the year ending May 1, 1884.

For pay of 120 men at $10.00 each,	$1200 00
For refunding poll taxes for 120 at $2.00,	240 00
For incidental expenses,	160 00
